

CONTENTS

List of illustrations	vii
Abbreviations	ix
Acknowledgements	xi
Preface	xiii

Introduction: On the uses of humanism	1
---	---

PART ONE

HUMANIST LEARNING AND NETWORKS IN EAST CENTRAL EUROPE

Chapter One: Aspects of East Central European humanist learning	19
Chapter Two: Humanist networks and the ethos of the Republic of Letters	69
Chapter Three: The uses of humanism at the imperial court	99

PART TWO

THE CASE OF JOHANNES SAMBUCUS

Chapter Four: An ornament to the imperial court?	145
Chapter Five: The multiple identities of the humanist: “vates, medicus bonus, historicusque”	199

PART THREE

THE CASE OF ANDREAS DUDITH

Chapter Six: The curious career of a heterodox humanist ...	239
Chapter Seven: The making of the humanist: self-fashioning through letters and treatises	285
Epilogue: Sambucus and Dudith encounter confessionalisation ..	329
Conclusion	357
Bibliography	365
Index	379