

Contents

PREFACE / vii

Deanna Reder

A PREFACE: RUMINATIONS ABOUT TROUBLING TRICKSTERS / xi

Linda Morra

LOOKING BACK TO THE “TRICKSTER MOMENT”

What’s the Trouble with the Trickster?: An Introduction / 3

Kristina Fagan

Trickster Reflections: Part I / 21

Niigonwedom James Sinclair

The Trickster Moment, Cultural Appropriation, and the Liberal Imagination in Canada / 59

Margery Fee

The Anti-Trickster in the Work of Sheila Watson, Mordecai Richler, and Gail Anderson-Dargatz / 77

Linda Morra

RAVEN

Why Ravens Smile to Little Old Ladies as They Walk By ... / 95

Richard Van Camp

Gasps, Snickers, Narrative Tricks, and Deceptive Dominant Ideologies:

The Transformative Energies of Richard Van Camp’s “Why Ravens

Smile to Little Old Ladies as They Walk By ...” and/in the Classroom / 99

Jennifer Kelly

A Conversation with Christopher Kientz / 125

Linda Morra

Personal Totems / 135

Sonny Assu

RIGOUREAU, NAAPI, AND WESAKECAK

Dances with Rigoureau / 157

Warren Cariou

Naapi in My World / 169

Eldon Yellowhorn

Sacred Stories in Comic Book Form: A Cree Reading of Darkness Calls / 177

Deanna Reder

COYOTE AND NANABUSH

“Coyote Sees the Prime Minister” and “Coyote Goes to Toronto” / 195

Thomas King

Excerpt from Indigenous Storywork: Educating the Heart, Mind, Body, and Spirit / 197

Jo-ann Archibald

(Re)Nationalizing Naanabozho: Anishinaabe Sacred Stories, Nationalist Literary Criticism, and Scholarly Responsibility / 199

Daniel Morley Johnson

Quincentennial Trickster Poetics: Lenore Keeshig-Tobias’s “Trickster Beyond 1992: Our Relationship” (1992) and Annharte Baker’s “Coyote Columbus Café” (1994) / 221

Judith Leggatt

Trickster Reflections: Part II / 239

Niigonwedom James Sinclair

TELLING STORIES ACROSS LINES

Processual Encounters of the Transformative Kind: Spiderwoman Theatre, Trickster, and the First Act of “Survivance” / 263

Jill Carter

Diasporic Violences, Uneasy Friendships, and The Kappa Child / 289

Christine Kim

“How I Spent My Summer Vacation”: History, Story, and the Cant of Authenticity / 307

Thomas King

APPENDICES

APPENDIX I: The Magazine to Re-establish the Trickster, Front Page / 316

APPENDIX II: Let’s Be Our Own Tricksters, Eh / 317

Lenore Keeshig-Tobias

COPYRIGHT ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS / 319

LIST OF CONTRIBUTORS / 321

INDEX / 325