

Contents

Series pages	vii
Foreword - Building global understanding: ethnocultural diversity and sport Daryl Adair	1
1. 'The race for supremacy': the politics of 'white' sport in South Africa, 1870–1910 Dean Allen	5
2. History and its racial legacies: quotas in South African rugby and cricket Christopher Merrett, Colin Tatz and Daryl Adair	18
3. Around the world: problematizing the Harlem Globetrotters as cold war warriors Damion Thomas	42
4. The televised sport 'monkey trial': 'race' and the politics of post-colonial cricket David Rowe	56
5. International development or white man's burden? The IAAF's Regional Development Centres and regional sporting assistance James Connor and Melissa McEwen	69
6. In-groups, out-groups and contested identities in Scottish international football Joseph M. Bradley	82
7. Ethnicity, structure and globalization: an argument about Association football in Australia, 1958–2010 Roy Hay	97
Index	115