

Contents

	Introduction: Selling the Novel in the Age of Mass Culture	1
1	Constructing the Postwar Art Novel: The Making and Marketing of The Sheltering Sky	19
2	The "Incalculable Value of Reading": Fahrenheit 451 and the Paperback Assault on Mass Culture	45
3	Synergy and the Novelist: Simon & Schuster, Time, Inc., and The Man in the Gray Flannel Suit	74
4	From Novel to Blockbuster: Peyton Place and the Narrative of Cultural Decline	102
5	1959 and Beyond: Mergers, Acquisitions, and Norman Mailer	127
	Epilogue: Novels Today: Oprah Winfrey, Jonathan Franzen, and the Long Tail	156
	Notes	165
	Works Cited	181
	Index	193
	Acknowledgments	200