

Contents

Acknowledgements	page viii
1 Communism and democracy – a problematisation	1
Part I The experiential basis of communism and democracy	29
2 Revolutions, transitions, and uncertainty	31
3 The political symbolism of communism	58
4 Experiencing democratic transformations	83
Part II Critical events and their symbolisations	109
5 The rise of Bolshevik power	111
6 The emergence of the Cold War	137
7 The articulation of dissidence	162
8 The collapse of communism	189
Part III Democracy as a process of meaning-formation	217
9 The power of memory	219
10 The future that failed	244
11 Democracy as a civilising process	269
Index	296