

Contents

	Series Editor's Introduction	vii
	Acknowledgments	ix
Chapter 1	Introduction: Roth's America Debra Shostak	1
Part I American Pastoral
	Introduction Debra Shostak	15
Chapter 2	"What was not supposed to happen had happened and what was supposed to happen had not happened": Subverting History in American Pastoral David Brauner	19
Chapter 3	The Critique of the Pastoral, Utopia, and the American Dream in American Pastoral Andrew Gordon	33
Chapter 4	America's Haunted House: The Racial and National Uncanny in American Pastoral Jennifer Glaser	44
Part II The Human Stain
	Introduction Debra Shostak	61
Chapter 5	Race, Recognition, and Responsibility in The Human Stain Dean Franco	65

Chapter 6	Possessed by the Past: History, Nostalgia, and Language in The Human Stain Catherine Morley	80
Chapter 7	“The pointless meaningfulness of living”: Illuminating The Human Stain through The Scarlet Letter Gabrielle Seeley and Jeffrey Rubin-Dorsky	93
Part III The Plot Against America
	Introduction Debra Shostak	111
Chapter 8	Just Folks Homesteading: Roth’s Doubled Plots Against America Brett Ashley Kaplan	115
Chapter 9	My Life as a Boy: The Plot Against America Elaine M. Kauvar	130
Chapter 10	Autobiography and History in Roth’s The Plot Against America , or What Happened When Hitler Came to New Jersey Timothy Parrish	145
	Notes on Chapters	161
	Works Cited	165
	Further Reading	173
	Notes on Contributors	178
	Index	181