

CONTENTS

The Joy and Pain of Work: Global Attitudes and Valuations, 1500–1650

Edited by
Karin Hofmeester and Christine Moll-Murata

Notes on Contributors

- The Joy and Pain of Work: Global Attitudes and Valuations, 1500–1650 Introduction
Karin Hofmeester and Christine Moll-Murata 1
- Studying Attitudes to Work Worldwide, 1500–1650: Concepts, Sources, and Problems of Interpretation
Marcel van der Linden 25
- Labour Ideologies and Women in the Northern Netherlands, c.1500–1800
Ariadne Schmidt 45
- Between Sin and Salvation: The Seventeenth-Century Dutch Artisan Pieter Plockhoy and His Ethics of Work
Henk Looijesteijn 69
- Attitudes to Work and Commerce in the Late Italian Renaissance: A Comparison between Tomaso Garzoni's La Piazza Universale and Leonardo Fioravanti's Dello Specchio Di Scientia Universale
Luca Mocarelli 89
- The Just Wage in Early Modern Italy: A Reflection on Zacchia's De Salario seu Operariorum Mercede
Andrea Caracausi 107
- The Religious Aspect of Labour Ethics in Medieval and Early Modern Russia
Arkadiy E. Tarasov 125
- Jewish Ethics and Women's Work in the Late Medieval and Early Modern Arab-Islamic World
Karin Hofmeester 141

Work Ethics and Work Valuations in a Period of Commercialization: Ming China, 1500–1644 Christine Moll-Murata	165
Prostitutes and Courtesans in the Confucian Moral Universe of Late Ming China (1550–1644) Harriet T. Zurndorfer	197
Japan in the Seventeenth Century: Labour Relations and Work Ethics Regine Mathias	217
The World of Labour in Mughal India (c.1500–1750) Shireen Moosvi	245
Norms of Professional Excellence and Good Conduct in Accountancy Manuals of the Mughal Empire Najaf Haider	263
Labour Ideologies and Labour Relations in Colonial Portuguese America, 1500–1700 Tarcisio R. Botelho	275
Free and Unfree Labour in the Colonial Andes in the Sixteenth and Seventeenth Centuries Raquel Gil Montero	297