

Contents

Acknowledgments vii

Introduction 1

- 1 “Like a Marriage with a Monkey”
An Argument for the Use of Speech-Act Theory
in the Analysis of Humor 10
- 2 Subversive Potential Meets Social Resistance
Women’s Humor in Thurber, Hurston, and Parker 42
- 3 Generally Unhappy
The Deconstruction of Speech Acts and Who’s Afraid of Virginia Woolf? 92
- 4 Comic Relief
A Stand-up Performance by J. L. Austin and the Consequences of Not Getting It 129
- 5 Failure Revisited and Authority Regained
Louise Erdrich’s Love Medicine 172
- 6 Sisyphus’s Punch Line
Intentionality and Wit as Treatment for Postmodern Depression 194

Notes 215

Works Cited 223

Index 229