
Contents

Preface ix

"Double Life" xv

I. DOUBLE LIVES

ONE

Dinner at the Café Marliave 1

"Near Hag's Head" 57

II. READINGS

TWO

Modernism, Leftism, and the Spirit:
The Poetry of Lola Ridge 61

THREE

The Westwardness of Everything:
Irishness in the Poetry of Wallace Stevens 87

FOUR

Lines of Leaving, Lines of Returning:
John Montague's Double Vision 113

FIVE

Starting from Wexford, Ending in the Sublime:
The Poetry of James Liddy 136

SIX

Two for the Road:
The New Irish Routes of Eamonn Wall and Greg Delanty 158

SEVEN

- The Parish and Lost America:
The Witness of Michael Coady's All Souls 196

EIGHT

- Back Through Distance: Currents of Tradition in the Poetry of Louise Bogan and Thomas McGrath 217

"Crossings" 245

III. CROSSINGS

NINE

- The Need for Routes:
Genealogy in Irish American Poetry 249

TEN

- From Crispus Attucks to Mr. Bones:
Race in Irish American Poetry 279

ELEVEN

- Over There: Irish American Poets Return 322

"A Green Road in Clare" 363

IV. THE WAKE OF EVERYTHING GONE

TWELVE

- Soundings and Erasures:
An Irish American Poet Digs Up His Past 367

"The Line" 401

- Notes 403
Works Cited 433
Index 445