

Contents

List of Illustrations	ix
Acknowledgements	x
Introduction	1
1 Incarceration of the Body and Liberation of the Spirit	15
Containment and the female body	16
Enclosure	20
Regulation and the monastic prison	28
2 Prison Miracles and the Cult of Saints	36
Sainthood prisoners	37
The cult of St Leonard	41
The miracles from Inchenhofen	43
Confinement and liberation miracles	51
Conclusion	56
3 Imprisonment, Memory and Space in the Early Inquisitions	58
Background	59
Heresy and imprisonment	61
Imprisonment in the inquisitorial imagination: fear	63
Imprisonment in the prisoners' imagination: memory	71
Conclusion	77
4 Didactic Uses of Imprisonment and Captivity	80
Imprisonment as moral example	82
The living exempla of female saints	85
Imprisonment, captivity and action	91
Conclusion	99
5 Imprisonment and Freedom in the Life of Louis IX	101
Prisoners of war during the crusades	103
Louis IX as prisoner of war: explanations
for his captivity	107
Louis IX's letter to his subjects, 1250	109

Hagiographical texts	113
Conclusion	122
Conclusion	124
Notes	135
Bibliography	170
Index	189