

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments ix

- 1 Semiotics beyond structuralism 1
 - 2 The poetics of ritual performance 23
 - 3 Natural, arbitrary, and divine languages 61
 - 4 Literalism, iconoclasm, and the question of the secular 92
 - 5 Transformations in poetic performance:
The coordination of Protestant literalism and print culture 113
 - 6 Arbitrariness, anomaly, and agency:
A critique of Mary Douglas's structuralist idea of the Holy 137
- Conclusion 157

Notes 165

Bibliography 211

Index 229