

Contents

Monika Fludernik and Bernd Kortmann (Freiburg) Preface	XI
Section I: Approaches to Language Variation
Ulrike Gut (Münster) and Christoph Schubert (Vechta) Approaches to Language Variation: Introduction	3
Graeme Trousdale (Edinburgh) Approaches to Language Variation: Complementary or Competing?	11
Stephanie Hackert (Munich) Variation in Educated Speech: The Case of Bahamian English	21
Joachim Grzega (Eichstätt) Amazon as a Venue to Study National Varieties of English	37
Sabine Zerbian (Potsdam) Experimental Approaches to Language Variation: Prosodic Focus Marking in Varieties of South African English	51
Katja Böer, Sven Kotowski and Holden Härtl (Kassel) Nominal Composition and the Demarcation between Morphology and Syntax: Grammatical, Variational and Cognitive Factors	63
Stella Neumann (Aachen) Applying Register Analysis to Varieties of English	75
Silvia Hansen-Schirra (Mainz) What Do These Results Suggest? Cross-linguistic Variation of Non-agentive Subjects and the Role of Translation	95
Section II: Early Modern Narratives and the Genesis of Genre
Christina Wald (Augsburg) and Gerd Bayer (Erlangen) Early Modern Narratives and the Genesis of Genre: Introduction	107
David Duff (Aberdeen) Novelization and Its Discontents	113

Ingo Berensmeyer (Giessen/Ghent)
From Pilgrimage to Complaint: Malaise and Mobility in Medieval and Early Modern Urban Texts	125
Miriam Nandi (Freiburg)
Narrating Emotions, Narrating the Self? Representation and Regulation of Emotions in Early Modern Diaries	135
Jürgen Meyer (Halle/Erfurt)
Representing Early Modern Readers in Action	147
Michaela Schrage-Früh (Mainz)
(Un-)Writing the Self: Authorial Strategies in Seventeenth-Century Women's Religious Prophecy	167
James Vigus (Munich)
Quaker Picaresque	183
 Section III: The Writing Cure
Alexandra Lemberg (Leipzig) and Jarmila Mildorf (Paderborn)
The Writing Cure – Literature and Medicine in Context: Introduction	195
Kathryn Montgomery (Chicago)
The Missing Text in Medicine	199
Marc Priewe (Potsdam)
Illness Poetics: Anne Bradstreet, Edward Taylor and the Language of Early Modern Medicine	201
Anna Thiemann (Münster)
Reversing the Commodification of Life? Rebecca Skloot's Narrative Science Writing	202
Monika Pietrzak-Franger (Siegen)
'Codes of Discretion': Silence and Ethics in Doctor/Patient Communication	204
Pascal Fischer (Stuttgart)
Literature and Medicine in Ian McEwan's Saturday	205
Susanne Scholz (Frankfurt)
Literature and the Scientific Gaze: The Case of the 'Elephant Man'	206
Susanne Bach (Kassel)
Representing Medical Practitioners	207

Felix C. H. Sprang (Hamburg)
"Let me see the child, and die": The Medicalization of Childbirth in Eighteenth- and Nineteenth-Century Novels	209
 Section IV: Dickens and His Legacy
Ina Bergmann (Würzburg) and Norbert Lennartz (Vechta)
Dickens and His Legacy: Introduction	213
Martin Kindermann (Hamburg)
The Narration of Space in Charles Dickens's Our Mutual Friend , Little Dorrit and Bleak House	221
Greta Olson (Giessen)
Dickens's Animals through the Lenses of Poverty Studies and Posthumanism	241
Michael Butter (Freiburg) and Birte Christ (Giessen)
Teaching Reading in Instalments: An Experiment	253
Dianne F. Sadoff (New Brunswick)
Boz and Beyond: Establishing the Dickens Legacy	261
Kai Merten (Kiel)
Photopoetics, Précinema and the Web: Dickensian Media History	273
Jürgen Meyer (Halle/Erfurt)
Dickens and the New Physics: A Christmas Carol and Robert Gilmore's Scrooge's Cryptic Carol	283
Anna Wille (Halle)
A Queer Twist to the Tale? Sarah Waters's and Stephen Fry's Reworkings of Dickens in Fingersmith and The Liar	293
 Section V: The Place of Theory
Martin Middeke (Augsburg) and Christoph Reinfandt (Tübingen)
The Place of Theory: Introduction	305
Derek Attridge (York)
Challenging Theory: The Question of Time and Place in Literary Creation and Reception	308
Herbert Grabes (Giessen)
The Fate of Texts Under Changing Theory	309

Jürgen Schlaeger (Berlin)
The Place of Literary Theory Today	311
Helga Schwalm (Berlin)
Rethinking the Empirical in Literary/Cultural History	312
Christian Huck (Kiel)
Misreading Shelley, Misreading Theory: Deconstruction, Media and Materiality	313
Sebastian Domsch (Munich)
Ethics and Agency: The Limits and Necessity of Ethical Criticism	314
Gerold Sedlmayr (Würzburg)
Literary Theory in Reverse: The Literariness of Theory	316
Nicola Glaubitz (Siegen)
Managing Complexity: Literary Theory and Literature in Organization Studies	317
 Section VI: Varia
Hans-Jürgen Diller (Bochum)
Historical Semantics, Corpora and the Unity of English Studies	321
Elahe Haschemi Yekani (Berlin)
(M)Other Seacole's Wonderful Adventures : The Politics of Imagining the British Family	339
Jochen Petzold (Regensburg)
The Victorian Debate on Science Education and the Case of "Robina Crusoe"	353
Katrin Röder (Potsdam)
Narratives of Happiness in the Context of a Reparative Hermeneutics	365
Dorothee Birke (Freiburg) and Stella Butter (Mannheim)
The Politics of 'Realism': Analyzing Discourses on Contemporary Literature and TV	385
Ralf Haekel (Göttingen)
"Such is the uneven state of human life": The Concept of the Human in Early Eighteenth-Century Literature	397