

Contents

List of Figures	vii
Notes on the Contributors	xiii
Acknowledgements	xix
1 Perceptions Anne M. Scott	1
2 Terra Australis and the Idea of the Antipodes Alfred Hiatt	9
3 The Roman South Bill Leadbetter	45
4 Meanings of the South: From the Mappaemundi to Shakespeare's Othello Christopher Wortham	61
5 Terra Australis, Jave la Grande and Australia: Identity Problems and Fiction W.A.R. (Bill) Richardson	83
6 Mapping Terra Australis in the French Seventeenth Century: The Mémoires of the Abbé Jean Paulmier Margaret Sankey	111
7 Ceremonial Encounters: Spanish Perceptions of the South Pacific, 1567–1794 Mercedes Maroto Camino	135
8 Naming and Shaming: The Baudin Expedition and the Politics of Nomenclature in the Terres Australes Jean Fornasiero and John West-Sooby	165

9	Who Do You Trust? Discrepancies Between the 'Official and Unofficial' Sources Recording Explorers' Perceptions of Places and Their People Michael McCarthy	185
10	'My Own Slender Remarks': Global Networks of Slavery and Sociability in Mary Ann Parker's Voyage to New South Wales (1795) Katrina O'Loughlin	211
11	Recovering the Imperial Context of the Mid-Victorian Exploration of Northern Australia, 1855–57 Norman Etherington	233
12	The Wicked and the Fair: Changing Perceptions of Terra Australis through the Prism of the Batavia Shipwreck (1629) Leigh T.I. Penman	247
	Bibliography	273
	Index	301