

contents

list of figures	ix
acknowledgments	xi
introduction	1
cynthia chris and david a. gerstner
part one: signature	19
1. creativity, copyright, and authorship	21
patricia aufderheide
2. copyright shakedown: the rise and fall of righthaven	37
pam spaulding and michelangelo signorile
3. appropriation art, subjectivism, crisis: the battle for fair uses	56
nate harrison
4. authorship versus ownership: the case of socialist china	72
laikwan pang
5. authoring cloth: the copyright protection of fabric designs in ghana and the united states	87
boatema boateng
6. sufi homoerotic authorship and its heterosexualization in pakistan	105
usman shaukat
part two: event	121
7. authoring user-generated content	123
mark andrejevic

8.	invention, authorship, and massively collaborative media	137
	judd ethan ruggill and ken s. mcallister
9.	abductive authorship of the new media artifact	151
	gregory turner-rahman
10.	creative authorship: self-actualizing individuals and the self-brand	163
	sarah banet-weiser and inna arzumanova
11.	authoring the occupation: the mic check, the human microphone, and the loudness of listening	180
	edward d. miller
	part three: context	195
12.	the myth of democratizing media: software-specific production cultures	197
	elizabeth losh
13.	global flows of women's cinema: nadine labaki and female authorship	212
	patricia white
14.	anxieties of authorship in the colonial archive	229
	jane anderson
15.	perceptions of place: the nowhere and the somewhere of al jazeera	247
	matthew tinkcom
16.	amateur auteurs? the cultivation of online video partners and creators	261
	susan murray
17.	publish. perish? the academic author and open access publishing	273
	polly thistlethwaite
	list of contributors	285
	bibliography	291
	about the american film institute	304
	index	306