

Contents

Preface and Acknowledgements	viii
1 Three Transnationals: Transnationalization, Transnational Social Spaces and Transnationality	1
Cross-border migration and the need for a transnational perspective	5
Unpacking the transnational	7
Aim and structure of the book	17
2 Transnationality and Social Practices	27
Familial transnational practices	28
Socio-cultural transnational practices	32
Economic transnational practices	35
Political transnational practices	39
The significance of transnational practices	43
3 Conceptualizing Transnationalization and Transnational Social Spaces	46
Transnationalization in historical perspective	47
The concept of transnational social spaces	53
The durability of transnationalization	61
4 Transnationalization and Development	66
Three phases of the debate	68
Remittances and their role for family and kin	70

Transnational investment and business	74
Hometown associations and their contributions to community development	75
Transnational circulation of knowledge	80
Social remittances and their effects	84
5 Transnationality and the Models of Migrant Integration	88
Transnationalism as a model of integration	91
The relationship between transnationality and integration	95
Second-generation transnationality	102
Migrant associations as a means of integration and transnationalization	106
6 States and Citizens – Transnational Political Practices and Institutions	109
Citizenship: a conceptual sketch	111
The policies of citizenship: the case of dual citizenship	114
The politics of citizenship: citizens, diasporas and states	121
Transnational citizenship?	133
7 Transnational Methodology	135
Three methodological challenges for transnational analysis	136
Methods to address the three challenges	145
Capturing simultaneity	157
8 Transnationalizing Civil Society	159
Civil society and transnational social spaces	161
The relevance of development, social integration and citizenship for civil society	164
Civil society and the state	168
Civil society and the market	171
Civil society and the family	172
The role and function of migrant transnational social spaces for civil society	175
The significance of a transnational approach for the social sciences	179

Notes
References
Index

183
185
203