

Contents

Why we publish this book in English	9
Warum veröffentlichen wir die englische Fassung dieses Buches	11
Introduction	13
1. The Way to Library 2.0	15
1.1. The role of location in the virtual space	15
1.2 The data framework of the Internet use	18
1.2.1 Who uses the Internet?	18
1.2.2 By which means is the Internet used?	19
1.2.3 Motivations for using the Internet	20
1.2.4 The Internet is open for 24 hours every day	21
1.3 The Library changes its version 1.0 to 2.0	22
2. Definitions, Technology, Usage, Interview	26
2.1 Blogs	26
2.1.1 Definition	26
2.1.2 Technology	26
2.1.3 Application in the Internet	31
2.1.4 Application in libraries	33
2.1.5 Further Ways of Application	37
2.1.6 Interview with Jochen Dudeck, Expert from the Nordenham Public Library	37

2.2 Web Feed	40
2.2.1 Definition	40
2.2.2 Technology	41
2.2.3 Application in the Internet	42
2.2.4 Application in Libraries	43
2.2.5 Further ways of application	45
2.2.6 Interview with Dipl.-Inform. Uwe Dierolf, Karlsruhe University Library	46
2.3 Film	48
2.3.1 Definition	48
2.3.2 Production	49
2.3.2.1 Prearrangement	49
2.3.2.2 Searching for a topic	50
2.3.2.3 Storyboard	50
2.3.2.4 Technology	51
2.3.2.5 Shooting	53
2.3.3 Postproduction	61
2.3.4 Commercialization/Distribution	62
2.3.5 Interview with Marcel Brannemann, the Alfred Wegner Institute for Polar and Marine Research (AWI), Bremerhaven	64
2.4 Podcasting	67
2.4.1 Definition	67
2.4.2 Technology	67
2.4.3. Podcast production	69
2.4.3.1 Generating audio contents	69
2.4.3.2 Media Contents	72
2.4.4 Usage in the Internet	75
2.4.5 Usage in libraries	77
2.4.6 Further ways of using podcasts	78
2.4.7 Interview with Alexander Kurz JUcast.de	79

2.5 Wikis	83
2.5.1 Definition	83
2.5.2 Technology	83
2.5.3 Application in the Internet	84
2.5.4 Application in libraries	87
2.5.5 Further ways of application	88
2.5.6 Interview with Patrick Danowski, former board member of the Wikimedia, Germany	90
2.6 Innovative Projects and Concepts	94
2.6.1 AV Seats	94
2.6.2 Media browser	96
2.6.3 Book Charging Machines	98
2.6.4 My room	99
2.6.5 Infoscreen	99
2.6.6 Guerilla - Marketing	101
2.6.7 Information monitors in libraries	101
2.6.8 Service for everyone and every concern	102
3. ... and what comes after the information technology? (Wolfgang Ratzek)	105
References	125
Curriculum vitae	137