

Contents

Acknowledgements	9
Introduction	11
KARL HEFFER The World as We Know It: Imagination and Relativism	25
LÁSZLÓ F. FÖLDÉNYI To See and to Make It Seen	51
JALE N. ERZEN Problematics of Contemporary Art in the Light of Enlightenment and Representation	75
KLAUS LANKHEIT Early Romanticism and the Fundamentals of “non-figurative” Painting	85
ANETT LÜTTEKEN Hölderlin, Kleist, Büchner – Arbitrary Formations in the Literary Discourse around 1900	133
CHRISTIANE HEIBACH The Early 20 th Century Cinema-Debate in Germany: Paradigms of Media Change	153
JÖRG TRAEGER The Ideal and the Real: Philipp Otto Runge’s Significance for 20 th Century Art	173
WIELAND SCHMIED The Modernism of Caspar David Friedrich: Inward Perspectives of Landscape Fragmentation	189

Contents

ULRICH PFARR Red, Green, and Blue as Topics of 19 th Century Landscape Painting and their Negation by Gerhard Richter	205
KLAUS HERDING “The more you approach nature, the more you must leave it”: A Different Look at Courbet’s Landscape Painting	221
MANFRED MILZ Samuel Beckett’s Stagescape of Waiting for Godot in the Mirror of Caspar David Friedrich’s and René Magritte’s Self-Reflections	253
JAMES KNOWLSON Beckett and Kleist’s Essay On the Marionette Theatre	297
TANEHISA OTABE “Wandering” as a Modern Idea – A Romantic Theme and its Variations	307
CHRISTOPHER S. WILSON Romanticism, Nature and the Architecture of Frank Lloyd Wright	323
URSULA FRANKE The Modern Self in Literature – On the Frankfurt Poetic Lectures of Andreas Maier and Robert Menasse	341
Contributors	369
Index of Names	376