

Table of Contents

Introduction	1
Maria Teresa Chialant and Marina Lops

PART ONE

Temporality and Fiction

The Representation of Time in the Short Story: The Example of Henry James	15
Vittoria Intonti

The Short Story: The Form in Time	29
Annamaria Sportelli

Fiction in the Late Nineteenth Century: Serials, Serialisation, and the Short Story	43
Laurel Brake

The Short Story in the “Naughty Nineties”: The Case of George Egerton	57
Marina Lops

‘An Event in the Lives of the Living’: Time and Death in the Modernist Short Story	71
Flora de Giovanni

Faits divers : Crime and Short Fiction	87
Clotilde Bertoni

PART TWO

History, Memory and Myth

Time in Some Aussie and Kiwi Short Stories: Lawson, Baynton, Palmer, and Sargeson	105
Angelo Righetti

Desperate Humanism: Saadat Hasan Manto’s Short Stories and Sketches about Partition	119
Rossella Ciocca

Myth and the Ambiguity of Time in Canadian Short Fiction: Sheila Watson's "Antigone"	131
Biancamaria Rizzardi
Horses, Time, and History in Sherman Alexie's The Lone Ranger and Tonto Fistfight in Heaven : Tales of Simultaneity	141
A. Lâmia Gülçur
PART THREE
Experiments with Time
Rudyard Kipling's Imperial Chronology in "The Lost Legion"	155
Elio Di Piazza
A 'Single Sitting' Story: H. G. Wells's "The New Accelerator"	169
Mariateresa Franza
Time Matters: Joseph Conrad's "To-morrow"	181
Maria Teresa Chialant
Siblings and Time in Four Short Stories: From Victorianism to Modernism	195
Antonella Piazza and Marcella Soldaini
The Stranger's Time is a Moving Train, a Plane in Flight: Alice Munro's étranger	211
Eleonora Rao
Future Vision: Time and Perspective in Margaret Atwood's Speculative-Fiction Short Stories	225
Allan Weiss
Notes on Contributors	237