

Contents

1 Making Sense of the Attraction of Psychology: On the Strengths and Weaknesses for Education and Educational Research .....	1
Paul Smeyers and Marc Depaepe
2 Struggling with the Historical Attractiveness of Psychology for Educational Research Illustrated by the Case of Nazi Germany .....	11
Marc Depaepe
3 On the Fatal Attractiveness of Psychology: Racism of Intelligence in Education .....	33
Jean-Claude Croizet
4 Psychology in Teacher Education: Efficacy, Professionalization, Management, and Habit .....	53
Lynn Fendler
5 The Fatal Attraction of the Language of Developmental Psychology in Child-Rearing .....	73
Stefan Ramaekers and Judith Suissa
6 Mirror Neuron, Mirror Neuron in the Brain, Who's the Cleverest in Your Reign? From the Attraction of Psychology to the Discovery of the Social .....	91
Kathleen Coessens, Karen François, and Jean Paul Van Bendegem
7 The Vocabulary of Acts: Neuroscience, Phenomenology, and the Mirror Neuron .....	105
Paul Standish

8	The Attraction of Neuropsychological Findings in Contemporary Educational Thinking, or Feeling, Emotion and Relationship as Blind Spots in Educational Theory .....	119
	Volker Kraft
9	‘The Proper Study of Mankind’? In Defence of the Humanities Against the Exaggerated Pretensions of ‘Scientific’ Psychology .....	131
	David Bridges
10	The Theology of Education to Come .....	147
	Richard Smith
11	Learning Is Not Education .....	159
	Nicholas C. Burbules
12	Attention, Commitment and Imagination in Educational Research: Open the Universe a Little More! .....	167
	Sijjn Mus
	About the Authors .....	175
	Author Index .....	181
	Subject Index .....	183