

Contents

List of table and illustrations	page vi
Acknowledgements	viii
List of abbreviations	x
Introduction	1
1 'A short period of insight': symbolising defeat as liberation, 1918–1923	24
2 Republican war memories: the Reichsbanner Black–Red–Gold	60
3 The personal microcosm of Reichsbanner activism	95
4 Public commemorations and republican politics	128
5 In search of a national symbol, 1924–1933	165
6 Pacifist veterans and the politics of military history	198
7 Mass media and the changing texture of war remembrance, 1928–1933	235
Conclusion	266
Bibliography	280
Index	306