

TABLE OF CONTENTS

List of Tables	xi
Foreword	xiii
Preface	xix
Acknowledgments	xxiii
Introduction	1
Chapter 1: Mapping the Terrain of Identity, Memory, and the Media	17
The Overseas Chinese and Their Place in the World	18
The Context of Chinese Indonesians	22
Identity, Memory, and the Media: The Case of Chinese Indonesians	37
Chapter 2: “Going Home”: The Dilemmas of Native Ethnography	45
Qualitative Framework of Inquiry and Native Ethnography	47
The Constructivist Paradigm	53
The Constructivist Research Design	55
Chapter 3: The Chinese Indonesians in Suharto’s New Order: Heterogeneity, Assimilation, and Culture	73
Chinese Indonesians: A Heterogeneous Community	75

	The Totok and the Peranakan	76
	Beyond Categories: The Slippery Task of Identifying Chinese Indonesians	80
	Regional Origins	82
	Family and Religion	91
	Assimilationist Policies, Culture, and the Media	96
Chapter 4:	The Chinese Indonesians and the Media: Identity Construction and Reararticulation of “Chineseness” in Diaspora	133
	From Golden Spoons to Mah Jong : A Diversity of Experiences	135
	Family and Religion	140
	Regional Differences	148
	Flying Tiger and Little Dragon Lady: Boys’ and Girls’ Culture	151
	Boys’ Culture	152
	Girls’ Culture	159
	Kalah dan Salah : Fear, “Imagined Security,” and the Politics of Identity	163
Conclusion		175
	Summary	176
	The Present Situation	183
	Implications and Suggestions for Future Research	186
	Concluding Words	191
Epilogue:	The Future of Chinese Indonesians	197

Table of Contents

ix

Appendices

A. Letter to Leaders of Chinese Community Organizations and Corporations	205
B. Consent Form (to Accompany Screening Questionnaire)	207
C. Screening Questionnaire	210
D. Verbal Statement for Focus Group Participants	214
E. Consent Form (to Be Signed Before Focus Group Discussion Begins)	216
F. Registration Form	218
G. Post-Focus Group Survey	222
H. Focus Group Protocol and Questions	224
I. The Republic of Indonesia Department of Trade and Cooperatives Decree of the Minister of Trade and Cooperatives No. 286/KP/XII/78 Regarding the Prohibition to Import, Trade and Circulate All Kinds of Printed Materials in the Chinese Language and Characters	227
J. Instruction of the Cabinet Presidium No. 49/U/IN/8/1967 Regarding Making Efficient Use of Mass Media in the Chinese Language	232
K. Definitions of Terms	235

References

237

Index

251