

Contents

Authors' biographies	xi
1 Introduction	1
Thomas Berker, Maren Hartmann, Yves Punie, Katie Ward
What is domestication?	2
Context and application	4
Methodology	6
Introducing the book and its articles	9
Outlook	14
Notes	15
References	16
PART I UPDATING DOMESTICATION: THEORY AND ITS HISTORY	19
2 What's 'home' got to do with it? Contradictory dynamics in the domestication of technology and the dislocation of domesticity	21
David Morley
The (much-advertised) 'death' of geography	24
Mediated histories	25
Technologies, contexts and traditions	26
The domestication of TV	28
New times and new formats	30
Domesticating the future	31
And now? De-domesticated/ing media?	33
Note	36
References	36
3 Domestication: the enactment of technology	40
Knut H. Sørensen
Doing technology – or not	40
Reductionist approaches	41
Consuming technologies – or domesticating them?	44
A technology studies approach to domestication	46
The successful construction of the Norwegian car	49

Mobile phone morality	51
Representing complexity	55
Notes	57
References	57
4 Domestication running wild. From the moral economy of the household to the mores of a culture	62
Maria Bakardjieva
A slice of life in my virtual household	62
Domesticating the internet, unleashing domestication	65
What is left?	68
... To the mores of a culture	71
Post-scriptum	77
Notes	78
References	78
5 The triple articulation of ICTs. Media as technological objects, symbolic environments and individual texts	80
Maren Hartmann
Text–context relationship	81
The domestication concept	83
Moral economy	84
Double articulation	85
The double articulation concept	85
The history of the concept	86
The second articulation	87
Double articulation, empirical research and methods	88
The application of double articulation	89
Methods	91
Double articulation today	93
Triple articulation?	96
Notes	97
References	99
6 Empirical studies using the domestication framework	103
Leslie Haddon
The 1990s domestication studies	103
Household structure and dynamics	107
The relationship between home and the outside world	110
Cohort analysis: the influence of earlier life experiences	113
The longer-term careers of ICTs	115
Summary	118
Notes	119
References	119

7 'Fitting the internet into our lives': IT courses for disadvantaged users	125
Deirdre Hynes and Els Rommes
Introduction	125
The concept of domestication	126
Dimensions of domestication	127
Methodology	129
Description of the courses	130
Analysis of the domestication process	132
Appropriation and conversion	132
Objectification and incorporation	137
Conclusions	139
Notes	141
References	142
8 The bald guy just ate an orange. Domestication, work and home	145
Katie Ward
Boundary management: creating home and managing work	145
Where is home? Towards a definition	146
Moral economy of the household: from formal to personal economy	148
Domestication: a conceptual framework	149
Home and work	152
Domesticating the internet: Objectification and incorporation	155
The domestic organization of work and leisure	157
Conclusion: a domesticated internet?	159
Appendix: Participating households	161
Notes	162
References	163
9 Making a 'home'. The domestication of Information and Communication Technologies in single parents' households	165
Anna Maria Russo Lemor
Introduction	165
Sociological accounts on family diversity and single parenthood	166
Audience research on family media consumption and everyday life	167
Methodology	169
Analysis of the experiences of my informants	170

Temporal and spatial constraints affecting media use	170
Economic and temporal issues affecting entertainment choices and attitudes towards media	172
Custody arrangements, family practices, and media consumption	174
Negotiating media habits with the other parent	176
Conclusions: negotiating media consumption and parenting practices	178
Notes	181
References	181
10 From cultural to information revolution. ICT domestication by middle-class Chinese families	185
Sun Sun Lim
Consumerism in China	185
Technology adoption in China	186
Family values and communication	187
Methodology	189
ICTs in the urban Chinese household	190
Routinization	191
Reconfiguration	192
Intermediation	194
Social advancement	196
Containment	198
Conclusion	200
Note	201
References	201
11 Domestication at work in small businesses	205
Jo Pierson
Introduction	205
Domestication and small business research	206
Relevance of small business setting	206
Combining factor and actor approach	207
Research set-up	208
Domestication concept	208
Domestication in micro-enterprises	209
Domestication process	210
Moral economy	213
Blurring of boundaries	215
Trends in studies on information systems	218
Conclusion: professional domestication in micro-enterprises	219
Notes	222
References	223

PART III OUTLOOK	227
12 Domesticating domestication. Reflections on the life of a concept	229
Roger Silverstone
Origins	230
The moral economy of the household	236
Articulations	239
Household and home	240
Domestication today	243
Domestication and morality	245
References	247
 Index	 249