

CONTENTS

MAPS, FIGURES, AND TABLES	xi
ABBREVIATIONS	xii
A NOTE ON CURRENCY	xiv
Part I England, France, and Burgundy: the View           from Paris	 I
1. The Place of Paris in a Divided France	3
2. Paris and England: the Search for Independence	26
Part II The Government of Anglo-Burgundian Paris	 47
3. Power and Influence in Paris, 1418–1436	49
The Question of Jurisdictions	49
The Parisian Municipality and the Royal Council	53
The Prévôté of Paris	66
4. Defence and Security	76
5. Enemy Property in Paris: Confiscations and Grants	112
Part III The People of Paris and the Anglo-Burgundian           Regime	 147
6. Politics and Society £	149
7. The Impact of Processions and Ceremonial	179
8. Englishmen and Frenchmen in Occupied Paris	206
The Two Nationalities	206
The Collapse of the Lancastrian Regime £	224
Conclusion: 'Fluctuat nec Mergitur'	241

Appendix: A Gift to the Duke and Duchess of Bedford (1424) and the Entry of Henry VI (1431): the Accounts of the Parisian Municipality	243
Bibliography	247
Index	263