

Contents

Preface	Page xi
Acknowledgements	xv
List of abbreviations	xvi
INTRODUCTION: THE STRUCTURE OF ANGLO-AMERICAN POLITICAL DISCOURSE	I
I Law, religion and sovereignty	I
II Constitutional innovations and their English antecedents	6
III The genesis of political discourse	10
IV Transatlantic ties and their failure	13
V The Commonwealth paradigm	20
VI Denominational discourse	29
VII The implications of theological conflict	35
VIII Denominational dynamics and political rebellions	41
I THE CONFLICT BETWEEN LAWS: SOVEREIGNTY AND STATE FORMATION IN THE UNITED KINGDOM AND THE UNITED STATES	46
I Law, nationality and nationalism: monarchical allegiance and identity	46
II The creation of the United Kingdom, 1536–1801: religion and the origins of the common-law doctrine of sovereignty	62
III Sovereignty in political theory from Justinian to the English jurists	75
IV Natural law versus common law: the polarisation of a common idiom	93
V Sovereignty, Dissent and the American rejection of the British state	111
VI Sovereignty and the New Republic: the American constitution in transatlantic perspective	125

2 THE CONFLICT BETWEEN DENOMINATIONS: THE RELIGIOUS IDENTITY OF EARLY-MODERN SOCIETIES		141
I	Before redefinition: politics and religion in the old society	141
II	Anglicanism as an agency of state formation: the question of establishment	153
III	Canon law, heterodoxy and the American perception of tyranny	167
IV	The Anglican ascendancy as the hegemony of discourse	180
V	The Anglican dream: harmony and conflict in the English parish	190
VI	The Anglican nightmare: sectarian diversity in colonial America	203
3 PREDISPOSITIONS: REBELLION AND ITS SOCIAL CONSTITUENCIES IN THE ENGLISH ATLANTIC EMPIRE, 1660-1832		218
I	Rebellions and their analysis in the Anglo-American tradition	218
II	Covenanters, Presbyterians and Whigs: resistance to the Stuarts in England and Scotland, 1660-1689	225
III	Colonial American rebellions 1660-1689 and transatlantic discourse	240
IV	The rights of Englishmen, the rhetoric of slavery, and rebellions in Britain and America, 1689-1760	249
V	The right of resistance and its sectarian preconditions in North America, 1760-1799	257
VI	The rhetoric of resistance and its social constituencies in England and Ireland, 1733-1832: some transatlantic analogies	282
VII	Denominations, social constituencies and their activation	290
4 POLITICAL MOBILISATION: THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION AS A WAR OF RELIGION		296
I	The American Revolution as a civil war	296
II	Predispositions, accelerators and catalysts: the role of theology	303
III	Heterodox and orthodox in the Church of England	311
IV	The divisions and disruptions of English Dissent	317
V	Heterodoxy and rebellion in colonial America, 1760-1776	335

Contents

ix

(A) The American Anglicans	339
(B) The American Presbyterians	351
(C) The American Congregationalists	363
(D) The American Baptists	372

CONCLUSION: 'DESOLATING DEVASTATION': THE ORIGINS OF ANGLO-AMERICAN DIVERGENCE	382
-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----

Index	392
--------------	-----