

CONTENTS

Acknowledgements	ix
Abbreviations	xi
List of Illustrations	xiii
 Introduction	 1
 1. Historical and Cultural Background of Kashmir Up to 1003 AD ...	 9
Physical Features	9
Political History	11
Style and Stylistic Change	21
Cultural History	26
 2. Early Sculptures	 31
Locally Produced and Imported Sculptures Dating From the Late First Millennium BCE to the Second Century CE	 31
Locally Produced Sculptures	32
I. The Semthan Terracottas with Hellenistic Subject Matter	 32
II. The Semthan Terracottas with Indian Subject Matter	43
III. The Mamal Adorsed Bull Capital	48
IV. Stone Sculpture of Apollo Carved in the Round	52
Imported Sculptures	52
I. Terracotta Objects	54
II. Stone Objects	57
III. Metal Objects	60
Sculptures in Gandhāra Style from the Late First Century to the Beginning of the Fifth	 64
I. Stone Sculpture	65
II. Metal Images	71
 3. The Formative Period: Sculptures from Bijbihara of the Fifth and Sixth Centuries	 77
The Early Phase of the Fifth Century	80
The Later Phase of the Sixth Century	122

4. The Formative Period: Sculptures from Baramula of the Fifth to the Sixth Century	131
The Later Phase of the Sixth Century	136
Parallel Styles in the Kabul Valley and the North-West	189
5. Post-Gupta Influence: The Art of Pandrethan and Related Sculptures of the First Half of the Seventh Century	197
6. The Emergence of the Classical Style: Buddhist Sculpture of the Seventh Century	257
The Buddhist Bronze Sculpture of Swat	297
Sculptures from Bolōr of the Seventh Century	303
7. Buddhist Sculpture of the Eighth Century Up Till the End of the Kārkoṭa Period	311
Bronzes Inscribed with the Names of the Paṭola Śāhis and Related Examples	311
The Classical Style: Buddhist Sculpture of the Eighth Century from Parihāsapura and Elsewhere in the Valley through the Kārkoṭa Period	331
8. The Classical Style: Brahmanical Sculpture of the Kārkoṭa Period	371
The Influence of the Classical Style	426
I. The Ancient Gandhāra Region	426
II. Chamba	426
9. The Sculpture of Avantipura and the Art of the Utpalas up to the Beginning of the Lohara Dynasty (CA. 850–1003 AD)	429
The Influence of the Utpala Style	492
Appendix: Kashmirian Literary Evidence for Multi-Headed Śiva Images	497
Bibliography	501
Index	511