

Contents

Acknowledgments.....	7
Introduction.....	11
PART ONE .....	17
Chapter One
Travel Books as Objects of Scholarly Interest.....	19
Travel Books and Travel Writing: Generic Issues in Synchronic and Diachronic Perspectives.....	19
Travel Books, Travel Writing and Discourses.....	39
Travel Books, the Diachronic Perspective and Sociology.....	58
Chapter Two
The Origins of the British Travel Book.....	67
Travel Narratives in Ancient Literary Traditions.....	67
Early Pre-Travelogues.....	72
Pre-Travelogues and Their Narrative Personae in the Period of Geographical Discoveries and Colonial Expansion.....	89
Social and Literary Paths to Travel Books in the First Half of the Eighteenth Century.....	101
Chapter Three
Male Narrative Personae of British Travel Books from Henry Fielding to Norman Douglas.....	115
Male Narrative Personae of British Travel Books in the Second Half of the Eighteenth Century.....	115
Towards a Taxonomy of British Romantic and Victorian Travel Books.....	137
Narrative Personae of Aesthetic Travel Books in Romantic and Victorian Culture.....	138
Narrative Personae of Sentimental Travel Books in Romantic and Victorian Literature.....	163
Narrative Personae of Imperialist Travel Books in the Victorian Age.....	181

PART TWO .....	193
Chapter Four
The Narrative Personae of D.H. Lawrence's Travel Books .....	195
Literary Paths to Twilight in Italy .....	195
Sea and Sardinia .....	207
Mornings in Mexico .....	218
Etruscan Places .....	224
Chapter Five
The Narrative Personae of Aldous Huxley's Travel Books.....	227
Aldous Huxley on the Road and the Persona of a Belated Grand Tourist.....	227
Jesting Pilate and the Persona of a Detached Intellectual .....	245
Beyond the Mexique Bay and the Persona of a Concerned Intellectual .....	254
Chapter Six
The Narrative Personae of Evelyn Waugh's Travel Books .....	261
A Tourist in Fully Labelled Places .....	261
Remote People .....	267
Ninety-Two Days of Evelyn Waugh's Ordeal .....	278
Waugh in Abyssinia and Mexico .....	284
Conclusion .....	287
Bibliography .....	295
A List of Illustrations .....	309
Index .....	311