

Contents

Series editors' preface xiii

Preface xiv

Acknowledgements xvi

PART ONE Contexts 1

1 Social and cultural contexts 3

The varieties of Victorian poetry 3

Reform and protest 5

Men and women 8

Gendering the poet 10

The Victorian woman poet 10

The fallen woman 12

Doubt 14

Faith 16

Empire 17

2 Literary contexts 21

The post-Romantics 21

Early-to-mid-Victorian poetics 24

Tennyson's Palaces of Art 25

Arnold: Poetry and action 27

The dramatic monologue 28

Poetry, the novel and marginality 29

Poetry and the book arts 30

Later Victorian poetics 33

PART TWO Texts 39

Introduction: Reading Victorian poetry 39

Victorian metres and rhythms 40

3 Alfred Tennyson, In Memoriam (1850) 41'What Hope is Here for Modern Rhyme?' (LXXVII. 1): In Memoriam
and form 41*In Memoriam* as elegy 44

Honest doubt 47

'Nature, Red in Tooth and Claw' (LVI. 15) 49

'My Lost Desire' (CXXIX. I) 51

Miss Alfred Tennyson 54

4 Robert Browning's monologues 57

Browning and the dramatic monologue 58

'Porphyria's Lover' 59

'My Last Duchess' 62

Browning's Italy: Art and historicism 65

'Fra Lippo Lippi' 66

'Andrea del Sarto' 68

Browning's dangerous edge 69

5 Elizabeth Barrett Browning and Aurora Leigh 73

The first woman poet 73

The development of Elizabeth Barrett Browning 74

Elizabeth, Robert and Italy 75

Aurora Leigh: Introduction 76*Aurora Leigh*: Books I to III 77*Aurora Leigh*: Books IV and V 81*Aurora Leigh*: Books VI to IX 856 Christina Rossetti, 'Goblin Market' 93

Christina Rossetti: Furniture wrecker 93

Giving and withholding: 'Winter: My Secret' 95

- Critical approaches to 'Goblin Market' 97
 Visualizing 'Goblin Market' 101
 Rossetti's irresistible metres 102
- 7 Dante Gabriel Rossetti, 'Jenny' and Augusta Webster, 'A Castaway' 105
- 'Jenny': The one most wanted 105
 Jenny's silence 108
 The prostitute and art: 'Jenny' and Found 110
 Augusta Webster: Dramatic monologist 112
 'A Castaway': 'The Silly Rules This Silly World / Makes About Women!' 115
- 8 Fin de siècle poetries 121
- Amy Levy 121
 'Xantippe' and 'A Minor Poet' 122
 Levy's lyrics: 'Ballade of an Omnibus' and 'Ballade of a Special Edition' 125
 Arthur Symons 127
London Nights (1895) 129
 Music hall modernity: 'Prologue', 'Nora on the Pavement', 'La Mélinite: Moulin Rouge' 131
- PART THREE Wider contexts 135
- 9 Critical contexts 137
- Victorian poetry criticism 1950s–80s 137
 Expanding the canon: Diversified voices 139
 Politics versus aesthetics 142
 Fin-de-siècle poetry criticism 144
 Victorian poetry criticism now 145
- 10 Afterlives and adaptations 149
- Gerard Manley Hopkins: Victorian modernist 149
 Thomas Hardy: Modern Victorian 152

Modernist reactions	155
The continuing popularity of Victorian poets and poems	157
Laureate legacies: Tennyson, elegy and queer memory	158
The still-withdrawing roar of 'Dover Beach'	161
'The Lady of Shalott' lives on	162
'The Lady of Shalott': The visual legacy	164
'Goblin Market' and the after-gaze	165
Elizabeth and Robert	166
'A Bag of Crisps Beneath the Bough': The best of the rest	168

Bibliography	171
--------------	-----

Index	183
-------	-----