

Contents

List of Figures	vii
List of Tables	x
About the Contributors	xii
1 Introduction: Cities and Crisis: Challenges for Urban Theory	1
Kuniko Fujita
2 “Global Cities”, World Power, and the G20 Capital Cities	51
Göran Therborn
3 Was the US Sub-prime Crisis the Prime Mover? The Limits of the ‘Critical Urbanist’ Interpretation of the UK Financial Crisis	83
Chris Pickvance
4 After Wall Street? New York’s Green Economy Imaginaries	113
Michael Indergaard
5 World Capitals of Capital, Cities and Varieties of Finance Systems: Internationally versus Regionally Oriented Banking	147
Stefan Gärtner
6 Seeing New York City’s Financial Crisis in the Vernacular Landscape	188
Jerome Krase and Timothy Shortell
7 Ports in the Global Urban Hierarchy	218
Alex Hicks and Ryan Hicks

8 Athens and the Politics of the Sovereign Debt Crisis	236
Nicos Souliotis
9 Globalization and Urban Insecurity: Comparative Perspectives	270
Sophie Body-Gendrot
10 Financial Crises and Spatial Income Inequality Growth: The Case of Tokyo	294
Kuniko Fujita	