

TABLE OF CONTENTS

PREFACE	vii
1. WOMEN IN ENGINEERING	1
Introduction	2
Women in Science and Engineering	3
Public Engineering School	13
Organization of Chapters	19
2. FRAMING THE STUDY OF PES	23
Cultural Production Theory	23
Engineer Identity	26
Engineering Expertise	29
Gender	34
Relations of Power	40
3. DESIGN AT PUBLIC ENGINEERING SCHOOL	43
PES Engineering Programs	43
Students' Sense of Design Versus Non-Design Courses	48
"Fighting the Hottest Fires"	53
4. MERCURY TEAM	57
The Mercury Team and Their Project	58
Mercury Team Meetings	60
Students' Contributions to the Team's Work	75
Other Influences on their Scientific and Technical Work	89
5. SLUDGE TEAM	93
The Sludge Team and Their Project	94
Regularly-Scheduled Team Meetings	97
Implementing the Data-Acquisition System	112
Students' Contributions to the Teamwork	121
Other Influences on their Scientific and Technical Work	132
6. FIRST-YEAR DESIGN TEAMS	135
Student Teams	135
The Design Project	136
The Monday Team	139
The Wednesday Team	147
Friday Team	154
Summary of Learning on First-Year Design Teams	169
Comparing First-Year to Senior Design Teams	176
7. DESIGN CLASSROOMS	179
Early Design Experiences at PES	179
Senior Design at PES	193
Comparing First-Year and Fourth-Year Design Courses	211

TABLE OF CONTENTS

8. WE'RE ALL NERDS..... 215

 Eliciting Engineer Identities.....216

 "We're All Nerds"217

 Over-Achievers: Academic-Achievers and Greeks.....222

 PES Expertise and Gender Status Hierarchies.....231

 Student Performances of Engineer Selves232

 Engineer Identities as Embodied Engineering Practice.....234

9. LEARNING ON THE OUTSKIRTS OF ENGINEERING..... 239

 Learning Engineering Practice.....240

 Deepening Women's Invisibility Campus-Wide257

 Masculinities and Institutionalizing Sexism at PES261

 Maintaining Men's Dominance265

 On the Outskirts270

REFERENCES 273

INDEX 277