

TABLE OF CONTENTS

MICHAEL BASSELER, ANSGAR NÜNNING & CHRISTINE SCHWANECKE

The Cultural Dynamics of Generic Change: Surveying Kinds and Problems of Literary History and Accounting for the Development of Genres

1

PART I

The Cultural Dynamics of Generic Change: Theoretical Frameworks

MICHAEL BASSELER

Tradition, Innovation and Defamiliarization in the Evolution of Genres: Explanations of Generic Change from Russian Formalism to the Renaissance of Genre Theory in the 21st Century

43

JAN RUPP

Bakhtin's Genre Theory as an Explanatory Framework for Generic Change: Concepts, Building Blocks and Impulses for Modern Genre Theory and Study

65

JANINE HAUTHAL

Metaization and Self-Reflexivity as Catalysts for Genre Development: Genre Memory and Genre Critique in Novelistic Meta-Genres

81

ANSGAR NÜNNING & CHRISTINE SCHWANECKE

Crossing Generic Borders – Blurring Generic Boundaries: Hybridization as a Catalyst for Generic Change and for the Transformation of Systems of Genres

115

JAN BAETENS

The 'Photo-Graphic Novel:' Hybridization and Genre Theory

147

MARCUS HARTNER

Hybrid Genres and Cultural Change: A Cognitive Approach

163

HETA PYRHÖNEN

Generic Stability Despite Hybridization: The Austenian Dominant Construction Principle

183

ANSGAR NÜNNING & JAN RUPP

Media and Medialization as Catalysts for Genre Development: Theoretical Frameworks, Analytical Concepts and a Selective Overview of Varieties of Intermedial Narration in British Fiction

201

PART II

New Genres in Contemporary Narrative Fiction: Model Interpretations

JUTTA WEINGARTEN

- Generatiographical Writing in Migration Literature: Sathnam Sanghera's
Memoir The Boy with the Topknot 237

POLINA SHVANYUKOVA

- Generic Encounters in Italian Fictions of Immigration: Hybridity in Amara Lakhous' Clash of Civilizations over an Elevator in Piazza Vittorio 255

BEATRICE SELIGARDI

- Retracing the Dynamics of 'University Fiction:' Formula and Hybridization
in David Lodge's 'Campus Trilogy' 271

ALEXANDER SCHERR

- Discursive Hybrids between Literature and Science: Self-Reflexivity as a Catalyst for Generic Change in Jeffrey Eugenides' The Marriage Plot 285

ELIZABETH KOVACH

- Cataclysmic Events as Genre Shapers? A Case Study of the Fantastic in Jonathan Safran Foer's Extremely Loud and Incredibly Close 301

NORA BERNING

- Graphic Narrative Theory Meets Genre Theory: A Model Interpretation of Joe Sacco's Safe Area Goražde 315

ANNE RÜGGEMEIER

- The Re-Construction of Auto/Biography through Objects: Nancy K. Miller's Relational Autobiography What They Saved 329

CHRISTIANE STRUTH

- Autobiographies in the Third Person: The Self As Other in Breyten Breytenbach's Metaautobiography The True Confessions of an Albino Terrorist and J. M. Coetzee's Meta-'Autobiography' Summertime 347

ANNA WEIGEL

- The Rise of the New Genre 'Fictions of the Internet:' Hybridized and Medialized Reading and Writing Practices in Jeffery Deaver's Roadside Crosses 365

MIRJAM HORN

- 'Through no Badness or Villainy of His Own:' Generic Change from Law to Literature in Vanessa Place's Statement of Facts 381