

Contents

List of Tables	vii
Preface to the Third Edition	viii
List of Abbreviations	ix
1 Introduction	1
The variety of interests in Europe	8
Groups	12
Non-group actors	17
Conclusion	21
2 EU Decision-Making and Channels of Influence	23
‘Routes’ of influence	25
EU interest representation through the ‘national route’	27
EU interest representation through the ‘Brussels route’	31
Conclusion	51
3 The Regulation of Lobbying and the European Transparency Register	53
Regulating conduct of those working in EU institutions	54
The regulation of lobbyists	56
4 Business and Professional Interests	65
Business interest associations	69
Cross-sectoral associations	75
Sector associations and firms	87
Large firms as EU public affairs actors	92
Professional interests	93
Peak associations claiming representation of professionals	97
EU sectoral professional interests	100
Conclusion	107

5	Labour Interests	109
	Labour and the economic agenda	113
	Social Europe through a participative labour market model	117
	The European organization of labour interests	121
	Conclusions	126
6	Citizen Interests	128
	The landscape of citizen interest groups	130
	The funding of NGOs	136
	Historic landmarks in the development of EU citizen interest representation	141
	Environmental interests	144
	Consumer interests	158
	Social interests	164
	Social movements	171
	Conclusion	174
7	Territorial Interests	176
	Regional governance in western Europe	178
	The organization of territorial public interests at the European level	184
	The Brussels offices of the regions	185
	Territorially based EU collective action organizations	190
	Conclusions	196
8	Organized Civil Society and European Integration	199
	Organized civil society and the democratic legitimacy of the EU	200
	Organized civil society and the development of EU competencies	226
	Conclusions: organized civil society and the EU	231
	Bibliography	236
	Index	266