

Contents

Acknowledgments..... vii

GÜNTER LEYPOLDT

Introduction: Intellectual Authority and Literary Culture 1

LAWRENCE BUELL

Inventing the Public Intellectual: Conflicting Models27

CATHERINE O'DONNELL KAPLAN

Joseph Dennie, John Carroll, and the Quest for a Limited Authority45

DIETMAR SCHLOSS

Shifting Positions: The Literary Intellectual in Charles Brockden
Brown's "Walstein's School of History" and Arthur Mervyn.....59

JONATHAN ARAC

The Authority of the Novel within Literature and of Literature within Culture: An American Case83

MARTIN KLEPPER

The Development of Literature as Art and the Authority of Fiction.... 101

JOHN EVELEV

Alternatives to Professional Autonomy: N.P. Willis and Margaret Fuller in the Antebellum American Literary Field 115

GÜNTER LEYPOLDT

Specters of Feminization in Nineteenth-Century Literary Culture 141

CHRISTA BUSCHENDORF

“Properly speaking, there are in the world no such men as self-made men”: Frederick Douglass’s Exceptional Position in the Field of Slavery 159

ISABELL KLAIBER

Women Intellectuals in Nineteenth-Century Domestic Fiction 185

HERWIG FRIEDL

Out of Bounds: American Visions of the Thinker and of Thinking 205

MICHAEL ANESKO

Collected Editions and the Consolidation of Cultural Authority: The Case of Henry James 219

TIMO MÜLLER

“The Short Cut to Posterity”: Authority and Representation in Henry James’s Literary Tales 245

JAN STIEVERMANN

“A Blackguard’s Faulty Vision”: Ambrose Bierce’s Modern Cynicism and Its Claim for Intellectual Authority 259

WINFRIED FLUCK

Thomas Eakins: Superiority and Inferiority as Sources of Symbolic Capital 289

Index 329