

Table of Contents

Martina King, Thomas Rütten

Introduction — 1

Olaf Briese

‘Social Contagionism’: Psychology, Criminology and Sociology in the Slipstream of Infection — 17

George Rousseau

The Overlap of Discourses of Contagion: Economic, Sexual, and Psychological — 41

Christoph Gradmann

Exoticism, Bacteriology and the Staging of the Dangerous — 65

Thomas Anz

Rousing Emotions in the Description of Contagious Diseases in Modernism — 83

Martina King

Anarchist and Aphrodite: On the Literary History of Germs — 101

Nicholas Saul

“[...] an entirely new form of bacteria for them”: Contagionism and its Consequences in Laßwitz and Wells — 131

Thomas Rütten

Genius and Degenerate? Thomas Mann’s Doktor Faustus and a Medical Discourse on Syphilis — 147

Luis Montiel

Aweysa*: Spiritual Epidemics and Psychic Contagion in the Works of Gustav Meyrink — 167

Rudolf Käser

Living with Rats and Mosquitoes: Different Paradigms of Cohabitation with Parasites in a German Narrative of Contagion around 1930 — 185

Yahya Elzaghe

Infectious Diseases in Max Frisch — 209

Priscilla Wald

Afterword — 225

Notes on Contributors — 233

Index of Names and Works — 237