Contents

Note: Every chapter begins with an outline and a list of key terms and ends with a summary, activities, and a list of further reading.

List of figures vii
Preface ix
List of copyright permissions xi
List of abbreviations xii

1. What is language typology? 1
1.1 Goals 2
1.2 Tools 10
1.2.1 Statement types 10
1.2.2 Language samples 17
1.2.3 Data sources 19

2. The worlds of words: Lexical typology 25
2.1 Introduction 26
2.2 Me. Words for body parts 31
2.3 Me and others 34
2.3.1 Kinship terms 34
2.3.2 Personal pronouns 39
2.4 How many? Words for numbers 45
2.5 What kind? 51
2.5.1 Antonymic adjectives 51
2.5.2 Words for colors 56

3. Assembling words: Syntactic typology 65
3.1 Introduction 66
3.2 The choice of words and word forms 69
3.2.1 Which words? 69
3.2.2 Which word forms? 80
3.3 The order of words 90
3.4 Syntactic categories 101

4. Dissembling words: Morphological typology 109
4.1 Introduction 110
4.2 The choice of morphemes and morpheme forms 120
4.2.1 Which morphemes? 120
4.2.2 Which forms of morphemes? 126
4.3 The order of morphemes 137
4.4 Morphological categories 143

5. The sounds of languages: Phonological typology 149
5.1 Introduction 150
5.2 The choice of sounds and sound forms 153
5.2.1 Which sounds? 153
5.2.2 Which forms of sounds? 157
5.3 The order of sounds 163
5.4 Phonological categories 174
5.5 Visual forms of language 176
5.5.1 Writing systems 176
5.5.2 Sign languages 184

6. Language in flux: Typologies of language change 193
6.1 Introduction 194
6.2 As the centuries pass ... historical change 195
6.2.1 The genesis of articles 195
6.2.2 Word order change 201
6.3 As the weeks pass ... developmental change 209
6.3.1 From the mouth of babes. First-language acquisition 209
6.3.2 Two systems in one head. Second-language acquisition 219
6.4 From knowing to doing. Linguistic performance 231
6.4.1 Relative clauses 231
6.4.2 Competing motivations 236

7. Explaining crosslinguistic preferences 243
7.1 Introduction 244
7.1.1 What are explanations? 244
7.1.2 Explaining language structure 246
7.2 Synchrony is explained by diachrony 249
7.3 Diachrony is explained by acquisition and use 251
7.4 Acquisition and use are explained by function 259

Postscript 272

List of languages mentioned 277
Glossary 281
References 283
Subject index 295
Language index 303
Author index 307