

Contents

I Introduction	9
Out of one's Mind Theatre	10
Daina Teters and Otto Neumaier
II Semiotics and Philosophy	19
Synaesthesia: Physiological Diagnosis, Practice of Perception, Art Program—A Semiotic Re-analysis	20
Roland Posner and Dagmar Schmauks
Abstention from Communication: Psychiatric Symptom, Ecological Demand, Meditative Technique	38
Dagmar Schmauks
Unreasonable Reason	50
Otto Neumaier
Faith is Reasonable or about the Rationality of Religion	63
Eberhard Tiefensee
Dehumanised Language—Manipulation or Senselessness?	75
Ilze Lokmane
III Linguistics	85
Nonsense as a Valid Philosophical Strategy	86
Ieva Kolmane
Uncommon Nonsense: The Reflection of the Non-rational in Stylistic Use	93
Anita Načisčione
The Art of Self-Reference in Edward Lear's Limericks	108
Winfried Nöth
Senseless Word Salad: Aphasia as Misapprehension and Aphasiology as an Analytical Tool in the Interpretation of Dada Poetry	125
Hubert F. van den Berg

Wordcrashing and Mindplaying	144
Màrius Serra
 IV Psychopathology and Sociopathology	 151
Good Enough to Eat	152
Friedemann Pfäfflin
Being a Psycho-Machine: On the Phenomenology of the Influencing-Machine	166
Thomas Fuchs
The Explication of Incapacity in Legal Discourse	180
Anita Vaivade
Madness as a Form of Freedom	190
Harijs Tumans
The Image of a Weirdo in Hippie Culture	199
Līva Zolneroviča
 V Theatre and Cinema	 207
Simple-mindedness in the Latvian Theatre	208
Valda Čakare
Ivan and Madness: The Ambivalence of the Theme of Insanity in Bulgakov's Novel The Master and Margarita	219
Silvija Radzobe
Adolescent Suicide in the Drama of Modernism	230
Līga Ulberte
The Cinema as "Thinking"	238
Inga Pērkone-Redoviča
Contributors	245