

Table of Contents

Introduction

Waltraud Ernst and Ilona Horwath | 7

A. GENDER IN THE DESIGN PROCESSES OF NEW TECHNOLOGIES

Gendering the Technological Imagination

Anne Balsamo | 19

Feminist Interventions in the Design Process

Els Rommes | 41

Searching for Methodology. Feminist Technology Design in Computer Science

Corinna Bath | 57

Masks between the Visible and the Invisible

Cecile K. M. Crutzen | 79

B. GENDER IN EPISTEMOLOGICAL FOUNDATIONS OF SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY

Homunculus in the Hormones?

Rebecca Jordan-Young | 111

Motherhood and Scientific Innovation. The Story of Natural versus Artificial Baby Food in the 19th Century

Barbara Orland | 129

Diffraction Patterns? Shifting Gender Norms in Biology and Technology

Waltraud Ernst | 147

Gender Research as Knowledge Resource in Technology and Engineering

Lena Trojer | 165

C. REFLECTING UN/EQUAL CONDITIONS FOR PARTICIPATION

Can Women Engineers be ‘Real Engineers’ and ‘Real Women’? Gender In/Authenticity in Engineering

Wendy Faulkner | 187

Similar But Different? Cognitive Differences in the Discussion of Women in Science and Technology

Ilona Horwath, Nicole Kronberger, Markus Appel | 205

Gender Competence in Mathematics Teacher Education

Andrea Blunck, Anina Mischau, Sabine Mehlmann | 235

Contributors | 259