

Contents

Preface xi

Prologue i

1: Finding the Motherlode

Journal Entry – 18 July 2010	8
Going Home	9
Parched	10
Journal Entry – 19 July 2010	11
Letters from a War Child	13
Nine Ways to Happiness in Wartime	14
Marijke's Song	15
Journal Entry – 20 July 2010	20
The Poem about Hiding Jews	24
Cat Got Your Tongue?	25
How Do You Know?	26
My Education	27
Journal Entry – 21 July 2010	28
The Librarian	30
The Hiding Place	31
The Hunting Game	32
Negotiating with the SS	33
Journal Entry – 22 July 2010	34
Motherlode	40
My Mother's Voice	41
The Root Cellar	42
The Hunger Winter, 1944–45	43
A Conversation	45
The Walls Have Ears	46
Where We Hid Them	47
Journal Entry – 22 July 2010	48
Stimpie Stampie at the New Dorrius	51
The Bartender	52

The Red Boots	53
Listening to the Radio	54
The SS Came at Night	55
Journal Entry – 23 July 2010	56
Speculaas on the Prinsengracht	58
Alarm	59
Journal Entry – 24 July 2010	63

2: The Children

The War Begins	66
Onderduik , 1944	67
We All Took Part	68
The Risks He Took	69
Learning Curve	70
Soldier Boy	71
Christmas Eve 1943	72
The Beef Tongue	73
Wool Was Hard to Get	74
The Collection	75
The Walnut Tree	76
The American Soldier	77
What Lisbeth Knows	78
No Visible Injury	79
God in de Hemel	80
Bittersweet	81
The Bouquet	82
Liberation in Nijmegen	86
Institut Henri Jaspar, Brussels	88

3: The Survivors

Manna from Heaven	90
A Dutch Jew Looks at the Facts	91
Real Estate Value	93

Riches to Rags	94
Staas	95
Teaching Kindergarten	96
Accuracy	97
Thunder and Lightning	98
The Department Store	99
War's Insidious Bite	100
Altje, 1942	102

4: The Fighters

The Story Wasn't True	106
Girl in a Flowered Dress	107
Lotte's Journey	108
The Namesake	109
Dear Folks, Love Ralph	110
The Outline	111
Homage to a Canadian Soldier	112
Stationed in Veghel	114
The Soldier Watches Retribution	115
Occupation Duty	116

Afterword: The Complexity of Belonging 119

Acknowledgements 123

Glossary of Dutch Terms 127