

Contents

GREG GARRARD

Foreword	7
----------------	---

Introductions

ROMAN BARTOSCH & SIEGLINDE GRIMM

Teaching Environments: How 'Green' Can—and Should—A Classroom Be?	13
--	----

UWE KÜCHLER

Where Foreign Language Education Meets, Clashes and Grapples with the Environment	23
--	----

Beginnings: From Picture Books to Young Adult Fiction and Film

BETTINA KÜMMERLING-MEIBAUER

Ants, Bees, Bugs, and Spiders: Insects in Children's Literature	37
--	----

ROMAN BARTOSCH

Teaching a Poetics of Failure? The Benefit of Not-Understanding the Other, Posthumanism, and the Works of Shaun Tan and Wolf Erlbruch	59
--	----

JANICE BLAND

Ecocritical Sensitivity with Multimodal Texts in the EFL/ESL Literature Classroom	75
--	----

KYLIE CRANE

When Pigs Cry—Teaching the Gaze, Materialities, and Environmental Ethics with Babe	97
--	----

Transdisciplinary Encounters I: Approaching the 'Two Cultures'

ADRIAN RAINBOW

Pedagogy and the Power of the Ecoliterary Text	117
--	-----

CELESTINE CARUSO Scientific Encounters in Literature— How the ‘Two Cultures’ Can Profit from Each Other In and Outside the Classroom	137
--	-----

Transdisciplinary Encounters II: Historizing Environmental Discourse

HAIKO WANDHOFF The Fall of Man and the Corruption of Nature: A Medievalist Perspective	155
---	-----

DOMINIK OHREM “A Deathless Love for the Natural and the Free”: Nature, Masculinity and Whiteness in 19 th -Century America	171
--	-----

SIEGLINDE GRIMM Teaching Cultural Ecology from German Romanticism to the Present: E.T.A. Hoffmann, Gottfried Keller, and W.G. Sebald	199
--	-----

Debate

ROMAN BARTOSCH & GREG GARRARD The Function of Criticism. A Response to William Major and Andrew McMurry’s Editorial	219
--	-----

WILLIAM MAJOR & ANDREW MCMURRY Response of William Major and Andrew McMurry	227
---	-----

PAMELA SWANIGAN The Case Against Agenda	235
---	-----

SIEGLINDE GRIMM Ecodidactics? A German Perspective	247
--	-----

List of Illustrations	261
List of Contributors	263