

Contents

List of Abbreviations	ix
Acknowledgements	x
Introduction: 'Mother Country'	1
Part 1: Mapping Some Territory	7
1 Colouring the English
Sue Thomas	9
Democracy and English tradition	12
Negotiating the modern Babylon	16
Living in white men's houses	25
2 'A Literature of Belonging': Re-writing the Domestic Novel
Ann Blake	33
Making contact	37
Living on the edge	41
Setting up home	43
Two nations	45
Inside Britain now	48
3 'Learning Me Your Language': England in the Postcolonial
Bildungsroman
Leela Gandhi	56
Bildung or roman ?	57
Goethe in Gurgaon	60
Bildungsroman , Indian-style	64
Part II: Author Studies	75
4 Katherine Mansfield and the Rejection of England
Ann Blake	79
5 Looking from 'This Curious Limbo': Jean Rhys
Sue Thomas	91
6 A 'Very Backward Country': Christina Stead and the English Class System
Ann Blake	104

7	The London Observer: Doris Lessing Ann Blake	116
8	Made in England: V.S. Naipaul and English Fiction(s) Leela Gandhi	128
	The politics of literature	130
	Imperial narcissism	135
	The fiction of England	139
9	Black Families in Buchi Emecheta's England(s) Sue Thomas	143
10	'Ellowen, Deeowen': Salman Rushdie and the Migrant's Desire Leela Gandhi	157
11	Liberating 'Contrasting Spaces': David Dabydeen Sue Thomas	171
	Works Cited	183
	Index	199