

Table of Contents

1. Introduction.....	1
2. Encountering the Other: Philosophies of Intersubjectivity	21
2.1 Desire, Recognition, and the Master-Slave Stage: Siri Hustvedt and G. W. F. Hegel.....	23
2.2 Dialogism: The Other as Complementation of the Self.....	33
2.2.1 The Between, I-It, and I-You Relations: Martin Buber's Philosophy of Dialogue	34
2.2.2 Discourse and the Other: M. M. Bakhtin's Dialogical Principle	41
2.3 Intersubjective Phenomenology: Embodiment as the Basis for Self-Other Relations	45
2.3.1 Monadic Selves, Proprioception, and Intersubjective Community: Edmund Husserl's Fifth Cartesian Meditation	47
2.3.2 Co-Existence and Reciprocity: Maurice Merleau-Ponty's Concept of Embodied Intersubjectivity	53
2.4 The Face-to-Face Encounter and the Mystery of the Other: Emmanuel Levinas's Ethical Subjectivity	59

3. Seeing on the Threshold: Self-Other Relations, Vision, and Visual Art in Siri Hustvedt's Works	67
3.1 The Self as a Hole in Vision: Subjectivity and the Gaze of the Other	72
3.1.1 Jacques Lacan: The Specular Subject	73
3.1.2 Jean-Paul Sartre's Theory of Vision and Subjectivity	78
3.1.3 M. M. Bakhtin: Vision and Consummation	83
3.1.4 Alienation and Photographic Misrepresentation in Siri Hustvedt's The Blindfold and Other Works	87
3.2 Moving toward the Other: Intersubjective Modes of Vision	104
3.2.1 Voyeuristic Tendencies in Siri Hustvedt's Writing: The Pleasure of the Look	111
3.2.2 Painting as a Medium of Dialogue in Siri Hustvedt's Intersubjective Vision of Art	116
4. Identity and the Boundaries of the Body: Hysteria and Anorexia Nervosa in Siri Hustvedt's Writing	131
4.1 Boundaries of the Body	138
4.2 The Self as a Reflection of the Other's Desire: Hysteria	142
4.3 Closing the Self Down: The Anorexic Struggle against the Open Body	153

5. When the Other Goes Missing: Attachment, Loss, and Grief in Siri Hustvedt's Writing	171
5.1 Relational Psychoanalysis: Attachment and Loss	173
5.1.1 Mother-Child Relations and Intersubjective Psychoanalysis.....	175
5.1.2 D. W. Winnicott: Holding, Mirroring, Playing, and the False Self.....	178
5.1.3 John Bowlby's Attachment Theory	183
5.1.4 Hustvedt's Application of Relational Psychoanalysis	187
5.2 Loss and Grief in What I Loved and The Sorrows of an American	195
5.2.1 What I Loved : When Death Parts Self and Other.....	197
5.2.2 The Sorrows of an American : Talking to Ghosts	203
6. Conclusion	209
7. Works Cited	217