

Table of Contents

General Editor's Preface	v
Preface	ix
PART ONE: EARLY MAN IN MESOAMERICA AND THE AGRICULTURAL BASIS
Introduction	3
Summary of Archaeological Evidence from the Valsequillo Region, Puebla, Mexico by Cynthia Irwin-Williams	7
The Origin of Zea mays by George W. Beadle	24
PART TWO: EXCHANGE NETWORKS
Introduction	45
Obsidian Exchange Networks: Inferences and Speculation on the Development of Social Organization in Formative Mesoamerica by Jane Wheeler Pires-Ferreira	49
Shell Exchange Networks in Formative Mesoamerica by Jane Wheeler Pires-Ferreira	79
Mössbauer Spectral Analysis of Olmec Iron Ore Mirrors: New Evidence of Formative Period Exchange Networks in Mesoamerica by Jane Wheeler Pires-Ferreira and Billy Joe Evans	101

The Significance of the "Epiclassic" Period in Mesoamerican Prehistory by Malcolm C. Webb	155
Ports of Trade in Mesoamerica: A Reappraisal by Frances Frei Berdan	179

PART THREE: ETHNOGRAPHIC CONTRIBUTIONS TO PREHISTORY

Introduction	201
The Ancient Maya in Light of Their Ethnographic Present by James C. Gifford	205
Ideas Concerning Maya Concepts of the Future by James C. Gifford	229
Ethnographic Realities of Mayan Prehistory by Jeffrey C. Howry	239
Mesoamericans as Cultural Brokers in Northern New Spain by John Hobgood and Carroll L. Riley	259

PART FOUR: PAINTING, HIEROGLYPHS,
CERAMICS, AND MYTHOLOGY

Introduction	275
Toward the Reconstruction of the Olmec Mythological System by R. V. Kinzhalov	279
Maya and Teotihuacán Traits in Classic Maya Vase Painting of the Petén by Jacinto Quirarte	289
The Aztec System of Writing: Problems of Research by Joaquín Galarza	303
The Deciphering of Glyphs Representing Méxica Govern- mental Titles by Horacio Corona Olea	309
The Aztec Day Names by Herbert Landar	327
The Relationship Between Painting and Scripts by Jorge Elliott	343
Petroglyphs of the Antilles by Ripley P. Bullen	365
Contribution to the Study of Cultural Sequences in the Central Area of Costa Rica by Carlos H. Aguilar	387

Table of Contents	xiii
Biographical Notes	413
Index of Names	419
Index of Subjects	425