

Contents

---

List of plates	viii
List of figures	x
List of tables	xii
List of abbreviations	xiii
Preface	xvii
Acknowledgements	xxi
1. The paradox of dominance yet dependence: Mexico City's Mask of Janus	1
2. Urban growth and the appropriation of space: from plaza to suburb to megacity	29
3. The politics of city management: defending the high ground	63
4. Urban land use and transportation	92
5. Planning in Mexico City: decorative or indicative?	114
6. The reproduction of social inequality: access to land, services and health care in Mexico City	138
7. The reproduction of urban form: modern, vernacular and post-modern environments in Mexico City	178
8. Mexico City: a conclusion or an epitaph?	233
Notes	238
References	240
Index	254