

Contents

Notes on contributors	page vii
Acknowledgments	x
Introduction: Feeling Romanticism Joel Faflak and Richard C. Sha	I
1 The motion behind Romantic emotion: Towards a chemistry and physics of feeling Richard C. Sha	19
2 A certain mediocrity: Adam Smith's moral behaviorism Thomas Pfau	48
3 Like love: The feel of Shelley's similes Julie Carlson	76
4 Jane Austen and the persuasion of happiness Joel Faflak	98
5 The General Fast and Humiliation: Tracking feeling in wartime Mary A. Favret	124
6 A peculiar community: Mary Shelley, Godwin, and the abyss of emotion Tilottama Rajan	147
7 Emotion without content: Primary affect and pure potentiality in Wordsworth David Collings	171
8 Kant's peace, Wordsworth's slumber Jacques Khalip	192

9	Living a ruined life: De Quincey's damage Rei Terada	215
	Bibliography	241
	Index	259