

Contents

Preface	9
1. Introduction	11
2. Codification of Muslim Personal Status Law in Arab States: principle and processes	19
Current debates: Bahrain and Iraq	22
Legislation, judicial discretion and political process	26
3. Arab State Codifications and Women's Rights Advocacy in the Third Phase of Family Law Reform	33
International law and Muslim family law	34
Women's rights advocacy	37
Recent legislative developments	40
4. Shari Postulates, Statutory Law and the Judiciary	45
Tunisia and the shari postulate	46
Judicial interpretation and legislative direction	48
5. Registration Requirements	53
Unregistered and ' urfi marriage	56
Overview	59
6. Capacity and Consent	61
Minimum age of marriage	62
The Jordanian debate on raising the minimum age of capacity for marriage	65
Guardianship in marriage	68
The role of the guardian	72
Overview	75
7. Polygyny	77
Constraints on polygyny in contemporary legislation	78
Lawful benefit and financial capacity	79
Notification requirements and consent of the wife	81
Divorce options and validity issues	83
Overview	86

8. The Marital Relationship	89
Dower	90
Maintenance and obedience	93
Special stipulations in the marriage contract	99
Misyar marriage	102
Overview	105
9. Divorce	107
Statutory approaches to unilateral talaq and judicial divorce	107
Judicial khul' in Egypt	112
Judicial khul' in Jordan	116
Other approaches to judicial khul'	119
Divorce as a judicial process	122
Compensation	125
Post-divorce rights to the marital home	130
Overview	131
10. Parents and Children	133
Period of custody	134
Allocation of custody	137
Paternity and adoption	142
Overview	149
11. Concluding Comment	151
 List of Statutes Cited	 157
 Selected Statutory Provisions	 161
1. Marriage Guardianship and Capacity	161
2. Polygyny	167
3. The Marital Relationship	170
4. Stipulations	180
5. Judicial Khul' and comparable divorce provisions	184
6. Compensation for injurious/arbitrary divorce	187
 Notes	 191
 Glossary of Arabic Terms	 229
 Bibliography	 233
 Index	 243