

CONTENTS

Preface	7
Canada for the Young	15
ALBERT RAU Canada—A Country of Reference for Students of English	17
GRIT ALTER Evolving Tendencies in Selected Young Adult Fiction from Canada	25
Multicultural and Transcultural Canada	35
ALISON CALDER Rediscovering Early Canadian Prairie Texts: The Case for In Due Season	37
JULIA MICHAEL "I Thought about Bringing a Cow in the House for Company": Humour in Mennonite-Canadian Writing	45
WERONIKA SUCHACKA "Being Both Within and Outside": Ray Serwyl's "The Lost Winters of Emerald and Silver" as an Example of Ukrainian-Canadian Transcultural Writing	57
MARK SHACKLETON Tracing the Present in the Past: Two Canadian-Trinidadian Writers Look Back on the Indo-Caribbean Diaspora	69
AGNIESZKA RZEPA Discomfiting Environments/Urban Magic: Canadian Magic Realism and Larissa Lai's When Fox Is a Thousand	79
IGA LESZCZYNSKA A Hot Dog of Mont Royal : Language and Cultural Curiosities of Montreal	87
UWE ZAGRATZKI Enforced Solidarity: Recent Atlantic Canadian Anti-War Novels	93
STEPHEN SCOBIE "Camoustie Beach" 103 "Hamburg Kunsthalle" 105 "Native Land" 107 "Ueckermünde" 109

Indigenous Canada	111
MYRNA KOSTASH The Reluctant Historian: The Writer Reads the North-West	113
KEITH BATTARBEE Tradition and Modernity: The Aboriginal Peoples of Northern Canada in the Early 21st Century	117
WARREN CARIOU Laughing and Learning with Weesakeejak: Cree Environmental Philosophy in Canada's Oil Sands Region	131
GENEVIÈVE SUSEMIHL Totem Poles and Chicken Dance: Indigenous Cultural World Heritage in Canada	139
HARTMUT LUTZ "Writing Back," "Writing Home," and "Writing Beyond?": Native Literature in Canada Today	153
Contributors	163