

Contents

Series Editor's Foreword Daniel Albright	vii
Editors' Introduction Charlotte M. Cross and Russell A. Berman	xv
Chapter 1: Abstract Polyphonies: The Music of Schoenberg's Nietzschean Moment William E. Benjamin	1
Chapter 2: Arnold Schoenberg as Poet and Librettist: Dualism, Epiphany, and Die Jakobsleiter David Schroeder	41
Chapter 3: Androgyny and the Eternal Feminine in Schoenberg's Oratorio Die Jakobsleiter Jennifer Shaw	61
Chapter 4: Von heute auf morgen : Schoenberg as Social Critic Stephen Davison	85
Chapter 5: Schoenberg in Shirtsleeves: The Male Choruses, Op. 35 Robert Falck	111

Chapter 6: The Prophet and the Pitchman: Dramatic Structure and Its Musical Elucidation in Moses und Aron, Act I, Scene 2 Edward D. Latham	131
Chapter 7: Schoenberg's Moses und Aron: A Vanishing Biblical Nation Bluma Goldstein	159
Chapter 8: Schoenberg Rewrites His Will: A Survivor from Warsaw, Op. 46 David Isadore Lieberman	193
Chapter 9: Texts and Contexts of A Survivor from Warsaw, Op. 46 Camille Crittenden	231
Chapter 10: Returning to a Homeland: Religion and Political Context in Schoenberg's Dreimal tausend Jahre Naomi André	259
Chapter 11: Schoenberg's Modern Psalm, Op. 50c and the Unattainable Ending Mark P. Risinger	289
Contributors	307