

Contents

Acknowledgements		ix
1	Introduction	1
	The contours of the argument	4
2	Class, Nation and the Racialized Outsider	9
	Introduction	9
	‘The ready made nucleus of degradation and disorder’: The Irish Catholic worker and the class struggle	12
	Black radicals as linchpin of the anti-slavery movement	17
	Class over nation and the significance of the racialized outsider	22
	Chartism and the multi-ethnic proletariat	26
3	Racism and the Contradictions of Socialist Nationalism	32
	Introduction	32
	Racism and the unmaking of the working class	33
	Liberalism and the aristocracy of labour	37
	The new unionism or the revolt of the ‘residuum’	40
	Anti-semitism and the limits of socialist nationalism	48
4	Race, Empire and Its Discontents	56
	Introduction	56
	‘Half-devil and half-child’: Elite racism and the new imperialism	57
	Empire in the working class imaginary	60
	Integration in the nation	64
	Internationalism in the age of imperialism I: James Connolly	66
	Internationalism in the age of imperialism II: Jewish socialists	71
5	Class War, Racist Riots and Communism	74
	Introduction	74
	War, proletarian rebellion and racism	75
	Racists, Reds and the revolt on the Clyde	81
	A party of outsiders: The CPGB	85
	The CPGB, anti-imperialism and anti-racism	89

6	Racism: From the Welfare Settlement to Enoch Powell	98
	Introduction	98
	'You've never had it so good': Racism in the age of affluence and national unity	100
	The CPGB and the British Road to Socialism	104
	Decolonization, 'nigger-hunting' and state racism	107
	Enoch Powell, racist strikes and socialist inaction	113
	Black resistance	119
7	Socialists, Anti-Racism and Working Class Bifurcation	123
	Introduction	123
	Class conflict, socialist activism and anti-racism	124
	Rock Against Racism (RAR)	130
	The Grunwick strike	132
	'We are black, we are white, together we are dynamite': The Anti-Nazi League	135
	The Anti-Nazi League: An assessment	138
8	Municipal Anti-Racism and Black Self-Organization	145
	Introduction	145
	Conservative victory, de-industrialization and the urban unrest	146
	Socialist regroupment in the Labour Party and municipal anti-racism	150
	'Don't discuss blacks behind our backs': Black workers' groups from NALGO to the TUC	155
9	Conclusions	162
	The enduring significance of racism	162
	From racial formation to working class formation: The racialized outsider as linchpin	164
	Bibliography	167
	Index	181