

Contents

Preface	ix
Introduction: Toward a Philosophy of Higher Education	1
1. The Higher Learning	11
Philosophies Legitimizing Higher Education • Conflict of Philosophies • Predominance of Political Philosophy • Underlying Pragmatism • Is the University an Anachronism?
2. Academic Autonomy	26
Limits of Autonomy • Autonomy in the Academic Hierarchy • Collective Bargaining • Student Participation

3. Academic Freedom	39
Justification of Academic Freedom • Limits of Academic Freedom • Freedom and the Politicization of Higher Education • Political and Religious Orthodoxy • Students and Academic Freedom • Civil Liberties
4. Higher Education for Whom?	56
The Few Versus the Many • Higher Education: Right or Privilege? • Meritocracy and Egalitarianism • Higher and Lower Higher Education
5. General and Vocational Education	68
Liberal Education • Vocational Education • General Education • Activism and the Counter-Culture
6. Pedagogy of Higher Education	86
Types of Pedagogy • Selection of the Curriculum • Structure of the Curriculum • Organization of the Curriculum • Motivation of Learning • The Grading System
7. Ethics of Scholarship	102
Obligation to One's Discipline • Ethical Tangents to Academic Freedom • Financial Considerations • Sanctions
8. The University as a Church	116
Bibliography	125
Index	137