

Contents

---

A note from Georg Lukács		vii
One	Introduction István Mészáros	1
Two	Class consciousness in history E. J. Hobsbawm	5
Three	Barnave: a case of bourgeois class consciousness Ralph Miliband	22
Four	Class structure and social consciousness Tom Bottomore	49
Five	Reflections on history and class consciousness Lucien Goldmann	65
Six	Contingent and necessary class consciousness István Mészáros	85
Seven	Propaganda, ideology and art Arnold Hauser	128
Eight	Literature and social mobility David Daiches	152
Nine	Self-consciousness and social consciousness in literature Anthony Thorlby	173
Appendix	Historical setting of Lukács's History and Class Consciousness Rudolf Schlesinger	192
Bibliography		199
Contributors		206
Index		209