

Contents

1. Introduction and objectives	3
2. The decline of productive sectors dominant until the 1950s: the crisis in coal and steel	5
2.1 Structural crisis in the Ruhr Area	5
2.2 Some impressions of the competitive strategies adopted by corporate leaders in the Ruhr coal and steel cluster	8
3. The strategy for structural transformation: priorities and components.....	11
3.1 Early days: policies to attract business (Standortpolitik).....	11
3.2 Phase two: encouraging new structures and forms of participation	12
3.2 Promoting institutionalised support for NRW's new competitive profile	16
3.3 The "meso" map	19
3.4 Opportunities and threats created by the new European scenario	24
4. The strategy today: A "new agenda" for the State government?	26
4.1 Systematised impressions: constituent factors in the NRW experience.....	26
4.2 The evolving role of State government	28
4.3 Notes for a "new agenda"	30
5. Lessons and future challenges for NRW; contrasts with the Chilean experience	32
6. Bibliographical references	34
ANNEX.....	36
Table A1.....	36
Figure A2	39
Figure A3	40
Figure A4	41